

Building a Reading Habit

Topic: career

Reading widely compounds skills, but only if the habit sticks.

Try this weekly cadence:

- Pick 3 topics you care about this month
- Schedule two 25-minute reading blocks on calendar
- Capture 3 bullets per article: idea, example, action
- Share one insight with a teammate or in a notes doc

Filter aggressively. If a post does not match your current project or goal, skip it. Topic-based browsing (like this app) helps you stay intentional instead of doom-scrolling a global feed.

Pair reading with doing: after a tech article, change one line of code in a side project. After a career piece, update your resume bullet or portfolio note the same day.
